2017 brings to an end my 4th year serving the City of Gaylord as your Police Chief. Unfortunately this will be my final year. I’ve accepted a position with another agency and I will start my duties with them in mid-March.

Over the past four years, I have had the opportunity to work with some really great people. I have built an amazingly strong team here at the Gaylord Police Department and I feel they will continue to serve the great citizens of Gaylord with compassion and pride.

I will miss several things about working here none more than serving the citizens of Gaylord. It has truly been an honor and I wish you all the best of luck in your future endeavors.

I will remain a resident of Gaylord, so you’re not completely done with me yet. See ya around!

Gaylord Police Department had 7258 calls for service in 2017. You can see how this compares to the surrounding area.
What goes into each of the categories?

Some categories may be more self-explanatory than others. Here are some examples of the types of calls that go into those categories.

911 Hangup – caller dials 911 but hangs up before dispatch can find out why they called. Officers must determine if someone at the address really needs help.

Adult Protection – Concern about vulnerable adults being abused or taken advantage of

Animal – animal bites, lost, dogs running at large, and found animals

Assist Other Agency – Officers help other law enforcement agencies with everything from trying to find current addresses on individuals in our city to backing up other officers on unpredictable calls. This category also includes when probation agents request help, child protection visits, background checks for daycares and prospective employees, and victim notifications.

Business Checks — a new breakout this year, even though we have done “stop and chats” at businesses before, we previously counted them under “Community Policing.”

City Ordinance – uncut lawns, junk in yard, parking on grass, no numbers on houses.

Civil Matter – contract disputes, custody issues

Juvenile Trouble – unruly children, bullying, truancy, children fighting

School Patrol — While this was previously counted in “Community Policing” it now has a breakout of its own.

Traffic Hazard — something in the roadway that is a hazard for motorists. Officers try to remove and resolve the problem as quickly as possible.
Some categories have very large numbers. These categories are broken out on this chart.

Apartment Check – Officers walk through apartment common areas on a preventative basis, quelling potential complaints before they become bigger issues.

Community Policing – walking through athletic games, participating in community events such as Music On Main, Farmer’s Market, Santa Day, and checking on community areas such as the Aquatic Center.

Park Check – Officers drive through the parks many more times than they “record” looking for suspicious activity.
Gaylord Police performed 1,291 traffic stops in 2017.

Speed limits and other traffic rules exist for a reason. Drivers who obey these laws make our roads and community safer. Officers stop motorists violating these rules to try to encourage future compliance.

Stopping a vehicle because the driver failed to use a turn signal may turn into an investigation for driving under the influence or not possessing a valid driver’s license.

A vast majority of traffic stops result in the officer giving the driver a verbal warning.

Gaylord Police Department Ordinances

The total number of city ordinance violations in 2017 was 413. These included animals at large, illegal dumping, illegal fires, parking, and failing to take care of property.

Usually, the first step in getting property owners to resolve issues is a warning letter. There is a set number of days to take care of the problem, depending upon the violation. If the owner fails to resolve the issue, then a citation is issued. Sometimes the issue needs to go before the City Council for resolution.

Calls can be initiated by a citizen, or an officer.

The highlight every year is K9 Caesar and his demonstration.
Gaylord Police Department Eggstravaganza

Eggstravaganza 2017 was a very special one for the Gaylord Police Department. In addition to all the fun we have come to expect, we were also honored to be the focal point for 2017.

At the Egg breakfast Friday morning, four gentlemen with a great sense of humor, participated in Jail and Bail. Don Boeder, Dwayne Baggenstoss, Scott Richards, and Silvio Amorim, competed to see who could get the most donations.

They raised $1,569.41 with bragging rights of “Winner” going to Don Boeder.

Don got to donate 25% to a local charity of his choice, and the remaining went to the Gaylord Police Department in the amount of $1,177.06 for use in children’s activities. We offer our deepest thanks to this group as well as the Eggstravaganza Committee.

Gaylord Officers were honored to have their community show how much they are appreciated. It is wonderful to serve this community.
Eggstravaganza’s logo was adapted into a tee shirt.

Other special events were tours of a Minnesota State Patrol helicopter and a public education booth staffed by Minnesota State Patrol.

K9 Caesar always draws a crowd for his demonstrations.
Gaylord Police Department Caesar

K9 Caesar is ending a 6 year career as a Police K9. K9 Caesar has been deployed over a 1000 times in his career to do everything from tracking suspects, area searches for suspects, building searches for suspects, and narcotics sniffs inside houses as well as vehicles. K9 Caesar has done a great job and is responsible with for taking a lot of criminals and drugs off the streets.

K9 Caesar loves coming to work every day. He never complains about working long hours, or not getting enough breaks. He’s ready to respond whenever he’s been needed.

Although K9 Caesar enjoys working alongside of his handler in the squad car, he’s happiest when he gets the opportunity to perform in front of groups.

K9 Caesar is retiring, but you will still see him around town going for walks and hanging out with his family. Please feel free to come and say hello, if you see him around town.
